Travel to the 2010 Super Seminars

#1... YOU NEED A PASSPORT!

In order to find the best prices with the least amount of problems, I have arranged to have our travel agent work with you to make things easier. Travel by air to the Sault has some special considerations which, if not taken good care of, can leave you stranded. The reason is that the aircrafts flying from the Sault to Detroit (going the US way) or to Toronto (going the Canadian route) are smaller turbo props.

The alternative to taking the last leg via air is to rent a car in Detroit and drive the last 6 hours. You would save a significant amount in this manner, especially if you travel with a group that can share car rental costs and driving.

Because folks are literally traveling from all corners of the world, making group travel arrangements is not easy. By allowing James to look after your needs, you will save the hassles that may take the fun out of this trip.

Lodging:

Sault Ste Marie is a popular destination, and rooms are often scarce during the Summer months. I have made arrangements with two hotels. Mention the martial art event for group rates.

2010 GRAND MASTERS SUPER SEMINARS

Meet the Grand Masters

Grand Masters Serge Baubil (founder Hosh-inkido) – Michael De Alba (founder of Modern Farang Mu Sul) – Kenneth MacKenzie (9th dahn Sin Moo Hap Ki Do) – James McMurray (founder of Moo Hap Sool) – Geoff Booth (founder of Australian Hap Ki Do group), as well as CM Marlin Sims (founder of UMSF) have agreed to work together in an epic and historical gesture of brotherhood among Korean martial arts Grand Masters. These Grand Masters will share their art in one hour sessions on Saturday, August 14th, 2010

Additional Grand Masters, Chief Masters, and Masters from Tennessee, Costa Rica, Oregon, Florida, the United Kingdom, Ohio, and Canada will conduct seminars on Friday evening and Sunday morning. This will give participants an entire weekend of solid Korean martial arts instruction by some of the best known and highly skilled Masters in the world. This is a truly International experience you don't want to miss.

On Thursday and Friday, we will also conduct testing of high ranking NKMAA Masters.
